“It is a strikingly beautiful setting, with a clever use of the natural slope to convey heaven above and earth and hell below...the sets and costumes are rich and beautiful and the cast – young and old – is excellent throughout... a wonderful production which is really worth seeing.”

Blockley Mystery Plays - The Old Testament, is a unique and very special production based on the principles of the mystery plays, popular in medieval times. It is the successor to The New Testament Mystery Plays, performed at the millennium, and which featured on the BBC's Songs of Praise.

The play is set in the beautiful surroundings of the English Cotswold village of Blockley, Gloucestershire. Written by Blockley resident Don Jowett, the hilarious and witty script tells the story of Satan's exile from Heaven, through Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden to Noah and The Flood followed by many other Old Testament stories such as Daniel and the Lions' Den, David & Goliath, Abraham and Isaac and concludes with the Nativity and the birth of Christ.
